

EXPLORE THE AMERICAN STUDIO GLASS MOVEMENT THROUGH THE LENS OF
THE CAFESJIAN ART TRUST (CAT) MUSEUM
FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 2024

From Origins to Horizons surveys the movement's beginnings in the 1960s through today, presenting a variety of works and themes within its history. The exhibition showcases the movement that brought glass working in America out of the factory and into small studios where artists acted as both designer and maker for the first time.

The Cafesjian Art Trust Museum invited artists to participate in the Museum's first juried exhibition of glass art from the Midwest region. Midwest Voices in Contemporary Glass includes works selected from an open call to illustrate the diversity of approaches and ideas percolating in the Midwest glass scene.

There is no cost to see the exhibits.
